

Nuevas Vistas A New Electronic Resources Page

Amy Blevins, MALS • Rebecca Bass, BSBA • Jeff Coghill, MLS, AHIP • Jason Cottle, BFA • William E. Laupus Health Sciences Library • East Carolina University • Greenville, North Carolina

Objectives

The number of electronic resources available to our patrons is rapidly increasing. As a result, it was decided that the patrons of our library would be better served if a new electronic resources page was created to consolidate resources into one convenient location.

Conclusion

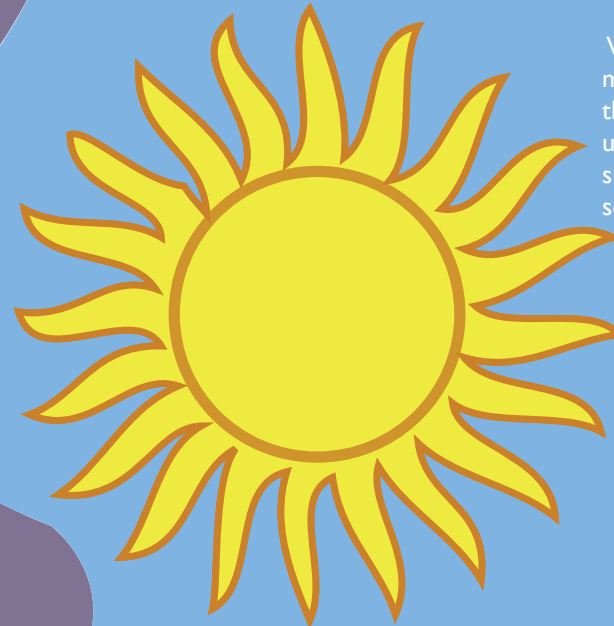

With the new database system in place, the electronic resources page is much easier to maintain, and the tagging system has allowed users to find the resources they need in a more efficient manner. Future plans include using the new electronic resources database to create self-generating subject guides for different departments within the division of health sciences.

Where is this page?

Is this everything?

Where can I find statistics?

What should physical therapy students use?

Before

After